Occupation/Residence:

He was educated at Lawrence St., York. He worked as a Banker. Partner in Hodgkin, Barnett, Pease & Spence. on 14 Mar 1859 in St. Nicholas Square, Newcastle Upon Tyne. Hodgkin, Barnett, Pease & Spence, was the successor to The Northumberland and Durham District Bank which had failed in 1857. The partnership was made up of Robert Spence, William Edward Barnett, John William Pease and Thomas Hodgkin.

Mr. Robert Spence died in 1890. The Bankers Magazine for October of that year contains an obituary notice regarding him, from which I extract the following : -

" Having made arrangements with Messrs. Hodgkin, Barnett, and Pease, he commenced business with them as a private banker on the 14th of March, 1859. Branches were shortly opened at North and South Shields, and eventually in most of the towns of Northumberland and Tyneside. In the new firm thus constituted, (Hodgkin, Barnett, Pease, and Spence) Mr. Spence, in right of his long and valuable experience, naturally took the lead, and till shortly before his death he continued one of the most active partners. He has seen four generations of his family engaged in practical banking, his son having entered the bank in 1866, and his grandson in 1889.

After his serious illness in early life, he was unable to take any active part in public affairs, and his close attention to business would alone have rendered this impossible. His holidays were always spent in exploring some new district of his native country, and his leisure at home in the study of his various bibliographical and antiquarian collections. After the death of his wife, twelve years ago, his health steadily declined, and for some months preceding his death, he was unable to attend to business. We may say a word or two, in conclusion, as to the business character of one who, of late years, might fitly be styled the Nestor of banking in the North of England. His diagnosis of an account (if a medical simile may be pardoned), was unusually clear and correct. When he was in his vigour, few men could equal him in the instinct with which he scented out accommodation transactions, or in his perception of the fact that a customer was no longer deserving of the banker's confidence. Naturally of a somewhat impetuous disposition, he was on principle gentle and courteous to his customers, even when their applications had to be most steadily refused. 'Take things by their smooth handle,' was a proverb which he often quoted, and continually exemplified in practice.

Towards his clerks, and all in any way dependent upon him, he was the most generous and considerate of employers. The trouble which he himself had gone through from broken health and the shipwreck of the Union Bank, had given him a vivid sympathy with the difficulties of persons of slender means; and the acquisition of wealth did not, as is sometimes the case, deaden this sympathy, but rather seemed to quicken and intensify it. It may seem like the utterance of a conventional commonplace, but it is in an unusual degree true of him, that by his death all who were brought into intimate relation with him, as partners, clerks, or customers, feel that they have lost a friend, and one whose loss will not be easily replaced."
